

SMALL STUFF

With its 24 rooms located on a quiet street in the 5th arrondissement, the Five Hotel is the smallest designer hotel to recently open in Paris. The petite rooms have a sensual atmosphere with fiberoptic, color-change lighting integrated into the bedroom ceilings and bathroom tiles and Dyptique essential oils on display. Meanwhile, Isabelle Emmerique's enamel artwork contributes to the refined design ambiance. A standard room goes for 150 euros, or $194, while the suite with private Jacuzzi and patio costs 270 euros, or $349.
